

MR. GARROW'S PLATFORM

Editor The Gazette:

Having, at the request of the Oysterman's Protective Association announced myself a candidate for the House Delegates of Virginia, from this District, subject to the Democratic Primary of August 5th and believing that the voters of the district have the right to demand, and to know the position of each and every candidate upon all questions of importance to the State and the District, I beg that you will give this letter space in the next issue of the Virginia Gazette.

I believe that it is the duty of a representative in the legislature, to represent and vote upon all questions as a majority of the voters in his district should desire. I therefore favor the holding of a District Convention in Williamsburg for the purpose of discussing the different questions of importance, and instructing the representative from this district as to how he should vote upon these questions. I should consider myself bound by the action of such a convention. I hold of course, my own individual views as to certain legislation needed by the district and the State. I believe that the oysterman who pays a license to catch oysters, should be allowed to sell those oysters to any person he chooses and where he can get the best price for his catch. I therefore favor the present existing seed oyster law, which prohibits the sale of certain oysters by the tongs, to be carried out of the state, yet allows the planters to sell the same oysters to go wherever the buyer chooses to carry them. I favor a law requiring the Commission of Fisheries to establish lines in the Chesapeake Bay beyond which no nets shall be set. Thus allowing at least some of the fish a chance to reach the York and James rivers. I believe that the legal oyster tub should be the standard bushel measure, and that it should hold nearly a bushel and a peck as at present. I favor the equalization of the assessment of property for taxation, through a central body with power to review and correct local assessments. I believe that the farmer is carrying more than his just share of the burden of taxation, and especially is this true of Tidewater Virginia. I am opposed to the present existing fee system of remunerating public officers, but I doubt that the legislature can frame or enact a bill that will reach the evil of the present system, until it first finds out what these different officers are paid for their services. I believe that the public has a right to know what the officers are being paid; they are public servants and I think they should be well paid for their actual services. But if under the present system some of them are being paid too much, and others not enough, then let us know who they are, and what they are receiving for their services. I favor a bill requiring the different fee officers throughout the state to keep an accurate list of their fees, and report the same, under oath, every 60 days to the Circuit Court and the Auditor of Public Accounts. This would place this information in the different Clerk's Offices throughout the state and thus make it accessible to the public. I do not believe that the enabling act is properly an issue in this campaign, because of the fact that the act passed the House of Delegates at the last session of the legislature and was defeated in the Senate. The membership of the Senate remains the same for the Legislature of 1914 that it was for 1912. It is only reasonable to suppose that the gentlemen who defeated this bill at the last legislature will do so in the next. I believe in the old democratic principle of local self government, and that each community should be allowed to settle these questions for itself. Yet I think the people of the State of Virginia are intelligent enough to vote upon any question affecting their rights or privileges, and if they desire to vote upon the question of prohibition, I believe that they have a right to demand that privilege of the legislature.

Most respectfully yours,
J. Toomer Garrow.

FARMERS' AUCTION AGAIN SUCCESSFUL

The June Farmers' Auction, which was held last Saturday, was one of the best of the series, the total sales amounting to about $600. Auctioneer Spencer was on the job from 11 in the morning till five in the afternoon and literally talked himself and everybody else to death. The crowd was large and good natured and bidding was spirited all day. The range of prices was about the average, some things going at ridiculously low prices, others selling at really more than they were worth new. That story is repeated at every auction sale and may be expected as a matter of course.

As usual Mr. Mouquin was the largest patron of the sale, his articles totaling about $170. The prices he received were perfectly satisfactory to him, and he is more enthusiastic than ever over the sales. Among the out-of-town bidders was Max Levinson, of Newport News. Mr. Webster Hitchens, a local meat dealer, was a heavy bidder against Mr. Levinson, both of whom bought freely and helped to make the sale a success. If the farmers will bring their stock there will be no trouble about selling it at a fair price.

Mr. Leon Slater, who has been living in New York City, has returned to his home here to rest.

Mr. M. F. Morris is spending his vacation with his niece, Mrs. E. K. Stokes in New York, and his son, Mr. J. A. Morris in Philadelphia.

Trustees' Bankrupt Sale Of Valuable Improved Real Estate and Brick Manufacturing Plant Located in James City County, Va.

Pursuant to the terms of the deed on trust hereinafter referred to, and in accordance with authority and direction of a certain order entered by the District Court of the United States for the Eastern District of Virginia, on the 23rd day of May, 1913, the undersigned trustees designated in the deed of trust referred to and the undersigned Trustees in Bankruptcy of the estates of R. H. Richardson, R. R. Richardson, R. V. Richardson and H. S. Richardson, partners trading as R. H. Richardson & Son, and as individuals, bankrupts, will offer for sale at public auction at the front door of the courthouse of the Circuit Court of the City of Williamsburg and James City County, in the City of Williamsburg, Virginia, beginning at 11 o'clock a. m., on MONDAY, JUNE 30, 1913 the following real estate and brick manufacturing plant, located thereon, situated in James City county, Virginia: (1) All that certain tract of land situate on the Chickahominy river, in Powhatan district, James City county, Virginia, containing 10 3-4 acres, and bounded as follows, to-wit: On the north by the land of L. B. Ware, on the east by the land of said Ware, on the south by Chickahominy river, and on the west by the land of Mollie M. Goddin; for a more particular description of this property reference is hereby made to a plat recorded in the clerk's office of James City county and the City of Williamsburg, in deed book 5, page 78.

(2) All that certain lot, piece or parcel of land, together with the docks, landings, wharves, rights, privileges and appurtenances thereto belonging or in anywise appertaining, situate on the Chickahominy river, in Powhatan district, James City county, State of Virginia, known as "Hog Neck," and containing 1-2 acre, and bounded as follows: On the south by Chickahominy river, on the east by the land conveyed to R. H. Richardson by Mollie M. Goddin and by the land of Randall Jones, the line beginning at the lower corner of the dock on said Goddin's land, and running thence in a straight line in a southerly direction to the land of Randall Jones, opposite an oak tree; this land is subject to the reserved right to ship timber from wharves on said premises, as reserved in the deed to the said R. H. Richardson from E. T. Martin et ux, dated May 24, 1900, and duly recorded in the clerk's office of the county of James City and the city of Williamsburg, in deed book 7, page 280.

(3) All that certain tract of land in Powhatan district, James City county, Virginia, located on Chickahominy river, known as "Hog Neck," and containing by estimate 61 29-32 acres, and bounded by the lands of E. T. Martin, Daniel Jones, deceased, Randall Jones, Martha Hill and by the Chickahominy river.

(4) All that certain lot, tract or parcel of land, situate in Powhatan district, James City county, Virginia, known as "Hog Neck Landing," on the Chickahominy river, estimated to contain 17 11-18 acres, more or less, and bounded on the north, east and west by the land of Mrs. M. C. Goddin, and on the south by the said Chickahominy river. Excepting therefrom a right of way and a landing condemned by the county of James City for a public road and landing, leading through and located on said land.

(5) And also all and singular, the plant, factory, kilns, tools, machinery and all and every class of property and paraphernalia located upon any one or more of the above four tracts or parcels of land, whether affixed to the freehold or not, constituting the whole or parts of the brick manufacturing plant or plants of R. H. Richardson and R. H. Richardson and Sons, or used in connection therewith, and also any and all improvements, extension and repairs thereon.

(6) All that certain tract or parcel of land, situate in Powhatan district, James City county, Virginia, known as "Edcoe's Ferry," containing by estimation 242 1-2 acres, adjoining the land of Daniel Jones, deceased, et als., and bounded as follows: On the north by Diascond creek, on the east by Needless Swamp, on the south by the land formerly belonging to Daniel Jones, deceased, now the land of W. W. Rich, et al., and on the west by the Chickahominy river, and

(7) All that certain tract of land situate in Powhatan district, James City county, Virginia, estimated to contain 76 1-2 acres, more or less, and bounded as follows: Commencing at a dog wood tree at the gate and south line of J. M. Richardson, thence following the steamboat landing road to a beech tree at head of a ravine, thence down said ravine to Yarmouth creek, thence up said creek to an ash tree west of Log Landing, thence south to pine, thence to post oak, thence to white oak, thence to pine, thence to hickory, thence to beech, thence to pine, thence to poplar, thence to holly, and thence back to dogwood at place of commencement.

The above several tracts or parcels of land being a part of the property conveyed by R. H. Richardson, R. V. Richardson and R. R. Richardson, et als., et ux., by their deed dated September 12, 1912, and duly recorded in deed book 13, pages 432, et seq., in the clerk's office of the Circuit Court of the city of Williamsburg and county of James City, Virginia.

The trustees are directed to offer the above six (6) tracts of land as one entire parcel containing 408 221-288 acres, and the property described in PARAGRAPH (5) consisting of the factory, kilns, tools and machinery; constituting a brick manufacturing plant, separately, viz., as an entire tract and as brick manufacturing machinery, and both as a whole, and if it brings more money as a whole than it does separately, then it is to be sold as a whole, otherwise separately.
